After the announcement published by Examiner.com on July 9, 2011 and the Foundation's tireless effort to make the scholarship known to the martial arts community via various channels, many qualified candidates applied for the $ 2,500 college scholarship. The Foundation committee members Sean Carnathan, Calvin Chin, Bonnie Gee, Michael Chan, Sunny Cheng, Drew Chin, Robert Elkind, Paul Ho, Eric Kolaczyk, Eben Weitzman, Stephen Wing, Ted Woo, Maria Chin Yong and Lucien Zoll went through the extensive review process based on the following criteria and selected two outstanding young martial artists to be the first awardees.

- Martial arts achievement (e.g., tournament medals, contribution to the martial arts)
- Academic achievement
- An essay explaining what the study of martial arts has meant to the applicant;
- Recommendations
- Participation and leadership in community and school activities, work experience, educational and career goals, and unusual circumstances

Leslie and Clint's stories will be published here at Examiner.com, and you can read them by clicking their names. You will find out the similarities of their experience and you can also see how martial arts help them grow.

To help more young people to develop their mind and body, you can join Master Calvin Chin and many martial arts enthusiasts to support the good cause of the non-profit Helen Gee Chin Foundation by donating to it. You can contact the committee for more information.
